

CONSULTING

Consulting is a partnership where we work with families, organizations and communities to correctly identify unwanted Behaviors. We use innovative concepts and solutions to reduce unwanted behaviors through measured progress, and outline next steps through listening and critical conversations that facilitate an environment for change.

GUEST SPEAKING

Guest-speaking is a way for teams, organizations, and communities to experience a thought-provoking presentation on Behaviors and Modern parenting. Im available to speak in-person and virtually on panels, at conferences, on webinars, and at events.

TRAINING

Training is an engaging way to introduce a team to new behavioral concepts and solutions. Workshops provide additional time for reflection, exercises, dialogue, and action-planning.

COACHING

Coaching lets individuals start where you are, share personal concerns, get one-on-one private feedback, and evolve into the savvy and effective person you want to become mentally. We offer this service to people at all levels, from students and young professionals to community leaders and executives.

FACILITATION

Facilitation provides a guided forum for organizations and communities to participate in dialogue, find common ground, and work toward conflict resolution. It is also a way to engage in cross-cultural brainstorming, reflection, and planning in order to get the behavior you desire.

ADVICE

Advice is a good option for those who have behavioral questions. For example, we can give you advice before you embark on travel, and can serve as a sounding board as you address a conflict with a child or adult.
